

Mira Mesa Auto Body Repair Scripps Ranch Auto Body Repair Shop

Description:

Metal Panel Damage

In the repair industry, many damaged metal panels that could be repaired are currently replaced, because of convenience, tradition, or an indifference to the time and money savings offered by repairing, as the invoice is usually paid by an insurance company. Replacement requires the painting of the entire replacement panel along with blending into all adjacent panels.

Our technicians have decades of combined experience in auto body repair, combining traditional methods with current innovations to give you the best results possible. In the repair industry, many damaged metal panels that could be repaired are currently replaced, because of convenience, tradition, or a lack of skill or technology. Replacement requires the painting of the entire replacement panel along with blending into all adjacent panels, and adds additional costs and risks.
